Rebel Court Fixes Death For Captain

Batista Officer Found Guilty Of Murder, Robbery

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The defendant in Havana's second show-case trial was convicted before dawn today and sentenced to death before a firing squad.

Three of Fidel Castro's officers deliberated for 39 minutes and found former Batista army Capt. Pedro Morejon guilty of assassination, homicide, and robbery. Morejon heard his fate after a trial of more than 10 hours, staged in marked contrast to last week's opening spectacle in Havana's brassy, 17,000-seat Sports Palace.

No Cameras In Court

This time the scene was army headquarters outside Havana. The courtroom held only 200 persons. There were no floodlights, television cameras, or radio microphones. The crowd filling the room occasionally applauded when the prosecution scored a point, but there was none of the Roman circus atmosphere which accompanied the conviction last week of the first Havana defendant, ex-Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco.

A high spot in the trial was the sudden appearance of Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, head of the revolution's forces in the Havana area. Cienfuegos—one of Castro's closest associates—dramatically proclaimed that if Morejon were not executed, "I will shoot myself."

He described the defendant as "the most bestial killer in the world." Morejon raised his hands, joining them together as if in prayer, as his sentence was announced. Otherwise he showed no emotion before his guards led him out.

Like Sosa Blanco, he was expected to appeal the sentence to the Superior Military Tribunal.

Blanco Appeal Due

It was not known when the third show trial, of ex-Lt. Col. Ricardo Luis Grao, would start. The Superior Court was to hear Sosa Blanco's appeal later today.

The most damaging testimony against Morejon came from a farmer and an attractive farmer's widow.

Carmen Vazquez, 24, told the court that last April 26, the captain and two carloads of soldiers had come to her home in Cauto del Paso, shot her husband, machine-gunned one of his brothers, then took another brother and a cousin into the street and gunned them down. None of them was a rebel, she testified.

The witness singled out Morejon from three persons on the prisoners' bench. The other two were guards also dressed in prison garb.

Airfield officials said radio operator Raymond Pawley and mechanic John Hillyer were killed.

Rubinstein, 46, was choked to death in his bedroom in his Fifth Ave. mansion. The police department still lists the case as "open."

Ike Economic Policies Due For Check-up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democrat who contends President Eisenhower's budget needs reshaping took command today of a searching inquiry into administration economic policies.

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), a husky, white-haired ex-Marine and former college professor, took over as chairman of the Senate House Economic Committee which begins hearings today.

Chairman Raymond J. Saulnier and other members of the President's Council of Economic Advisors were called as the first witnesses in an intensive study of prices, employment, production and purchasing power.

Unlike some Democrats who have described Eisenhower's budget as inadequate and unrealistic, Douglas said he is willing to go along with the 77-billion-dollar spending ceiling Eisenhower proposed. But he disagreed on where the money should be spent.

"The President has made cuts in the wrong places," Douglas said. "I think, for instance, that a billion dollars could be saved out of funds for military supplies and equipment. With this money we could maintain the Army and Marine Corps at present strength and add 850 million dollars to missile expenditures."

He said money will have to be found for urban renewal, public housing, aid to depressed areas and school construction. He said reductions could be made in other activities but did not say what cuts he would make.

Douglas himself took the lead today in a move which would add 325 million dollars to Eisenhower's proposed expenditures.

In a statement prepared for introduction of an area redevelopment bill, Douglas called for an effective program to aid areas hard hit by chronic unemployment. Thirty-eight other senators joined in sponsoring the bill.

The measure would authorize total loans of 300 million dollars and grants to states of 75 million dollars. Eisenhower, who vetoed an area redevelopment bill last year calling for a 275 million dollar outlay, proposed only a 50 million dollar expenditure for the purpose in his budget message.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—European cars were stoned and street signs broken in Leopoldville today in another flare of violence by a mob of young Africans.

Police quickly scattered the rioters. The trouble started when the owner of a shop burned out during independence riots early this month saw a young African apparently trying to take something from the ruins.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another U.S. moonshot try is in the works for the latter part of February. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Army are reported hopeful of blasting off an Army Juno rocket from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and send its payload past the moon into orbit around the sun some time during a six- or seven-day period beginning around Feb. 26.

But it was learned that final decision will not be made until about a week ahead.

Neither NASA nor the Army would officially confirm the plan. Main objective of the venture will be to learn more about the height of some 68,000 miles.

Khrushchev Sees Nation Taking Lead

Red Congress Gets Report Of Progress In Planes, Rocketry

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev announced today that the Soviet Union has started assembly line production of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Opening the 21st congress of the Soviet Communist party in the Great Hall of the Kremlin, the party chairman and premier said the Communist countries now "stand at the head of all progress."

Reviews Achievements

In a review of Soviet achievements in science, including jet aviation and rocketry, Khrushchev declared:

"The Soviet Union has started the serial production of intercontinental ballistic missiles."

More than 1,500 delegates from throughout the Soviet Union and Communist parties in 70 other countries applauded vigorously.

(U.S. Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said on Jan. 22 that the Defense Department does not believe the Soviet Union has an ICBM capable of operating against the United States. He also discounted reports the Soviet Union would have 300 of the intercontinental missiles by 1960.)

(After McElroy's statement, U.S. Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said that the United States had successfully test-fired ICBMs but was not going into full production of them because the Eisenhower administration would not spend the necessary funds.)

Khrushchev said a key task in the Soviet Union's new seven-year economic plan is to bring an end to the cold war and a lessening of international tension. But he also called on his people once more to:

1. Catch up with and surpass the leading capitalist countries in per capita output.

2. "Ensure the Soviet Union's triumph in the peaceful economic competition with the capitalist countries."

3. "Strengthen further the economic and defense might" of the Soviet Union.

Pledges Better Living

Although he said expansion of heavy industry would still have priority, Khrushchev promised the Soviet people a substantial rise in the standard of living as a result of the increase in his country's economic potentialities.

Further technical progress in all economic spheres, and a "continuous growth of the productivity of Soviet labor."

The Soviet people, he said, have reached "such heights" that they now have the chance to enter a "new, important period of development, the period of extensive building of Communist society."

In the political field he called for "further consolidation of the Soviet Socialist system," the unity and solidarity of the Soviet people, development of Soviet democracy, the activity and initiative of the broad masses in the building of communism, extension of the functions of public bodies in matters of state importance, increase in the organizational and educational role of the party and the Socialist state, and an all-out strengthening of the alliance between the workers and the peasants and of the friendship of the peoples of our country."

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A blazing Bomarc interceptor missile shot aloft today on the start of another simulated sky battle over the Atlantic.

The sleek 47-foot Boeing missile, which the Air Force claims is the nation's most advanced air defense weapon, made a swift climb straight up along a long trail of orange flame.

A twisting vapor trail traced its course across the clear Florida sky.

The mission was to seek out and theoretically destroy a pilotless F80 drone some 250 miles from the launching site.

Dulles Blasts Soviet Moves As 'Delusion'

Secretary Asserts High Level Parley Could End Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Soviet leaders are trying to delude the world into believing they want to end the cold war while actually seeking advantage to win it.

Nevertheless, he told a news conference, the United States feels this spring is about the right time for a high level East-West conference on Germany and European security since it is sometimes possible to reach peace-promoting agreements with the Soviets through tough bargaining.

Dulles said the United States would be delighted to get an effective reunification of Germany by any means fair to all sides. But he ruled out Russia's proposal for a confederation of West Germany and Communist East Germany because, he said, that is designed to secure the permanent partition of the German nation.

On other points, Dulles:

1. Expressed concern that Soviet Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan may have formed a false impression on his trip here that the American people are not really behind their government in carrying on strong policies toward Russia.

2. Reacted skeptically to the statement by Soviet Premier Khrushchev Monday that as a result of Mikoyan's visit here Khrushchev sees signs of a "thaw" in the cold war.

3. Confirmed reports of disagreement between the United States and some of the Baghdad Pact powers over the extent of defense commitments the United States would make in proposed new security agreements with Pakistan, Iran and Turkey. Dulles said he thought the differences would be ironed out but that under existing legislative authority, the Eisenhower administration cannot possibly make agreements with Pakistan and Iran that would go beyond concern with Communist aggression.

4. Said the United States plans to withdraw its military advisory mission in Cuba since the new revolutionary government has criticized its presence there.

5. Denied knowledge of any recommendation from the Atomic Energy Commission that underground explosions be excluded from any international agreement banning nuclear weapons tests.

Batista Denies He's To Blame For Atrocities

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fulgencio Batista says he never sanctioned atrocities in Cuba and believes any which took place were the work of the rebel leader Fidel Castro.

The ousted Cuban dictator was interviewed at his refuge in Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, by Managing Editor George Beebe of the Miami Herald.

In a copyright article, Beebe quoted Batista as saying Castro had weakened Cuba's economy by driving out tourists, destroying highways and burning sugar cane fields.

Batista said he believes the atrocities of which his forces are accused were "the work of Castro and not my men. If they did take place, it was without my sanction."

Batista said he has no plans to seek a return to power.

Lost Own Baby

Kidnaped Tot Found Alive, Woman Held

NEW YORK (AP)—Month-old John Tavaraz, the second baby kidnaped here this month, was recovered alive and well early today in the apartment of a Puerto Rican couple. The infant was ill when abducted on Thursday.

Police said Ascension Ortiz, 25, admitted taking the child from its home because she had a miscarriage 10 days ago. She and her husband, Angel, a plastic dyer, have three children ranging from 6 to 9.

"It was because I lost my own baby," Mrs. Ortiz told police. "I had to make it up to my husband."

Husband Believed Her

At first she denied stealing the Tavaraz baby, and claimed the one in the three-room basement apartment was her own. Her husband was so convinced of her truthfulness as first that he supported her story.

Daraliza Tavaraz was taken to the Ortiz apartment and, weeping with joy, identified her baby from a mark on his neck.

The 31-year-old Mrs. Tavaraz also identified Mrs. Ortiz as the "Gladys Garcia" with whom the child had been left while Mrs. Tavaraz went apartment hunting. The baby was gone when Mrs. Tavaraz returned home.

The two women had struck up an acquaintance at a hospital the day before Mrs. Tavaraz took her baby there for treatment of a persistent cold. Mrs. Tavaraz' new "friend" suggested a location where the mother might find larger quarters.

Police said Mrs. Ortiz, a chubby woman with auburn-streaked hair, would be charged with kidnapping. Hundreds of police and FBI agents ran down scores of worthless tips in an effort to locate the kidnaped child.

Police credited solution of the case to a tip received on a special telephone line for public calls about the case and the aid of the Spanish language newspaper El Diario.

The same type of tip on another special phone line had led to the (Continued on Page 2; Col. 3)

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A gift of an ice machine to chill country club martinis inspired a community foundation that finances advanced study for public school teachers.

More than 500 school board members gave two hours of concentrated attention to a National School Boards Assn. section meeting Monday night to a how-to-do-it explanation of the Columbus, Ind., foundation idea.

The idea was born with Dr. W. L. Wissman, Columbus physician and school board member.

"I heard that a man in our town gave a $1,500 ice-making machine to the country club," Dr. Wissman explains.

"I figured if there were people around with that kind of money to give away why couldn't we get some of it together to support summer study opportunities for our teachers."

The Columbus foundation collected and donated its first private money in 1956. In three years it has awarded grants to 36 Columbus teachers for summer projects including a Spanish teacher's tour to Valencia, Spain.

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro, Cuba's revolutionary chief, returned today from a goodwill visit to Venezuela, officials at Jose Marti Airport reported. He was driven immediately to his hotel suite.

Roads Skiddy As Snow, Rain Hit East U. S.

By The Associated Press

Cold and wet weather spread across areas in the eastern half of the nation today but skies were clear in many sections.

A mixture of rain, freezing rain and snow slicked highways and streets in a wide belt from Kansas and Oklahoma across northern Arkansas and Missouri into the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic states.

Cold air followed the wet weather. The biggest temperature drops were south of the wet belt extending from north central Texas along the Ohio River to Virginia and southeast Pennsylvania. Temperatures were 10 to more than 20 degrees lower, with biggest drops in Texas.

Little change was reported in the flood conditions in five eastern and central states hit by last week's damaging overflows. Crest stages all along the Ohio River, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported, are lower than was indicated last week and further flooding will be minor.

Skies were clear over most of Georgia and Florida and along the Gulf Coast.

tion apparently is a pioneer in doing this job for elementary and high school teachers.

"The effect on teacher morale has been untold," declared Clarence E. Robbins, school superintendent. "And we now find we have an important advantage in recruiting good new teachers."

Robbins said 60 per cent of the Columbus school system teachers hold master's degrees. No more than 10 per cent of the teachers in an average school system will have master's degrees.

The foundation, has budgeted $12,000 for summer study projects this year. About $10,000 was spent last summer.

Former Judge In Dixie Acquitted Of Contempt

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The acquittal of former Judge George Wallace on a contempt charge leaves Wallace in the role of a potential candidate for governor boasting he defied civil rights investigators and got by with it.

Wallace insisted he disobeyed a federal court order, despite the court's finding that he had complied with it and actually helped over to grand juries hastily summoned by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission in Barbour and Bullock counties access to voter registration counties.

The former state judge declared he had successfully defied the authority of the federal government and the civil rights agency. "They were defied and backed down," he said.

"This only shows," said Wallace, "that if you resist them (federal agents) and back them to the wall, they will hunt any way to back away."

Wallace's term expired last week. He was under court order from U. S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to make the records available to commission agents. Instead he turned them

Slayer Freed In Killing Of Ex-Child Star

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer, former child actor in the "Our Gang" movie series, will be buried today following a coroner's jury ruling that the man who shot him to death last week acted in justifiable self-defense.

The jury's ruling Monday brought dismissal of a murder complaint against Moses Samuel (Bud) Stiltz, 38, who fatally wounded Switzer, 32, in an argument over a $50 debt last Wednesday.

Stiltz, a welder and former business partner of Switzer, tearfully testified at an inquest that he shot the onetime child star only after "Alfie" had threatened him with a knife.

Stiltz was arrested following the shooting at the San Fernando Valley ranch-style home of Mrs. Rita Jane Corrigan, 38, former wife of movie stuntman Crash Corrigan.

Kidnaped

Chief of detectives James B. Leggett said a check of footprints positively identified the Tavarez infant.

Leggett gave this account of the solution to the case: "Last Saturday we received a lead in the evening which we developed over Sunday and Monday. At 10:45 last night, facts were developed which justified us taking into custody Angelo Ortiz and Ascension Ortiz, his wife, in their apartment."

Two detectives and an FBI agent went to the apartment and found Mrs. Ortiz.

Mrs. Ortiz hysterically denied that she had stolen the baby. Mr. and Mrs. Ortiz and the infant were taken to a police station where Mrs. Tavarez made the identification both of her baby and the woman who duped her.

Officers said Ortiz seemed shocked when confronted with this evidence but then cooperated with police in drawing the admission from his wife that she had kidnaped the Tavarez child.

Ortiz said he was misled into thinking the baby was his because he knew his wife had been pregnant and he had never seen a newborn baby before.

The Ortiz' three children are Edwin, 6; Sandra, 7; and Henry, 9.

Coal Operators Attack New West Reich Tariff

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. coal interests said today "the hand that fed West Germany has now been bitten" by a new tariff on American coal imports.

The National Coal Association urged the State Department to "protest most vigorously" the tariff of $4.76 a ton.

Tom Pickett, the association's executive vice president, said in a letter to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, that "this arbitrary, unilateral action will effectively deprive the United States of about 60 per cent of its largest overseas market for bituminous coal."

He said the Bonn government's move was "disappointing because American taxpayers have furnished the West Germany more than 13 billion dollars in aid since 1948, exclusive of military expenditures in West Germany."

Much of this money, Pickett said, went to rebuild the German coal industry.

The West German cabinet last week approved the new tariff on all but the first 3,500,000 tons of U.S. coal to be imported this year. Last year West Germany imported some 9,500,000 tons of bituminous coal from this country.

Effect of the new tariff, Pickett said, would be to hold German imports to the 3,500,000 tons allowed to enter duty-free.

United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis asked the United States Monday to take economic reprisals if necessary against West Germany because of its new tariff.

Accusing the West German government of "bad faith, and contemptible treatment," Lewis said the higher import duty would destroy the jobs of 20,000 Americans in the coal, rail and shipping industries.

He said the new tariff was motivated by politics—not economic factors—and charged that West Germany was planning to increase its trade with Russia, East Germany and Poland on a barter basis.

His remarks were made in a letter to C. Douglas Dillon, under-secretary of state for economic affairs.

Police said that after Mrs. Ortiz took the Tavarez baby she went home and told her three children: "This is your new brother."

The Tavarez family came here eight months ago from the Dominican Republic. Tavarez is an employee of a brasserie manufacturer. He and his wife also have three children, including the kidnaped baby.

In the earlier kidnaping, the Chionchio baby was located at the apartment of Jean Iavarone, 43, a twice married widow. She was charged with kidnaping and is now undergoing mental tests.

Father Who Killed Infant Put In Jail

FREDERICK (AP)—Larry Lordgineer was hustled into the jail Motherwell, rested in the security about 12:50 a. m. after a 435-mile block of the Frederick County jail ride from Xenia, Ohio, over snow today after a bone-tiring ride to covered highways.

Lordgineer was not allowed to face charges of permitting his infant deformed daughter to choke to death. The 42-year-old construction en-body was exhumed from a grave on the property of a dog fancier in suburban Frederick last Nov. 19.

Frederick Police Chief Charles V. Main previously said Motherwell had buried the child in a crude wooden box on the property of E. D. McCain.

McCain had told police that Motherwell had asked for permission to bury a dog which had saved his life in Korea. McCain said the defendant was unaccompanied and dug the grave himself in an open field near the McCain house.

Sheriff Horace Alexander of Frederick County said Motherwell was a perfect prisoner on the trip back from Las Vegas, Nev., where he was arrested Jan. 18.

The arrest ended a manhunt which began last summer with the reported disappearance of 72-year-old Mrs. Pearl Putney, a wealthy Washington widow. She still is missing.

Motherwell's daughter died June 19, 1954, several hours after he had taken her from a Takoma Park, Md. nursing home. She was buried the following day.

Chief Main, who questioned Motherwell in Las Vegas, said the defendant insisted he had not killed the child. He said Motherwell told how he placed the girl on her back after feeding, although he had been advised not to do so because of her defective tongue.

Main said Motherwell told him he took a shower while the baby suffocated.

High Court Upholds Will For Charity

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A Baltimore man's will bequeathing most of his seven million dollar estate to charity has been upheld by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

A first cousin of philanthropist Addison E. Mullikin told the court she thought "a little more" should have been left to relatives and a less to charity.

Mullikin, a former member of the Baltimore City Council and a candidate for governor in 1928, left an estate of $7,272,000, most of it in shares of the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Corp. He died Dec. 30, 1956 at the age of 82.

He was a native of Trappe, Talbot County.

Mrs. Muriel Kemp West of Philadelphia filed the legal action to break up the will which left most of the money to charitable, educational and religious corporations and persons.

Mrs. West received stock valued at $400,000.

The court said yesterday it could find no sufficient reason to invalidate the will.

Mental Health President Asks For Hospital Aid

BALTIMORE (AP)—The president of the Maryland Assn. for attention to the conditions. Mental Health today asked the public, Bagley said, must be shown a "gradual improvement also agree that for some patients over a period of years."

He added: "Most persons with a knowledge of care minimal, there has been no improvement in the conditions of mental institutions would agree that the hospitals operated by the State Department of Mental Hygiene are infinitely better than they were 10 years ago."

Dr. Charles Bagley III termed some of these problems "very distressing."

However, he said he sees hope in the public starting to take an interest in the conditions. He said this was mainly due to news-

Bagley said the conditions in the State mental hospitals have shown a "gradual improvement also agree that for some patients over a period of years."

He added: "Most persons with a knowledge of care minimal, there has been no improvement in the conditions of mental institutions would agree that the hospitals operated by the State Department of Mental Hygiene are infinitely better than they were 10 years ago."

Sewer Project Slated

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The city of Elkins was authorized today to go ahead with proposed improvements to its sewer system and to charge customers a service fee equal to their monthly water bills.

The city plans improvements costing nearly $1,000,000, about $250,000 of which will be obtained from the federal government. The remainder will be raised through the sale of bonds.

The State Water Commission ordered Elkins in 1949 to halt sewage treatment facilities.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

The Cost Is Ours

WE ALL KNOW that as our country grows in size and complexity the matter of keeping up with adequate schools, hospitals, roads and other public facilities becomes increasingly burdensome. Think how much better fitted we would be to meet these rising burdens if we did not have to spend some 41 billion dollars for defense, not to mention added billions for foreign aid and other outlays related to security. These fantastic sums make up roughly 60 per cent of the federal budget. They are six to seven times as great as the entire budget in what were considered the heavy spending days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal. None of us perhaps can appreciate fully the impact of this mammoth diversion of the national treasure into the essentially unproductive channels of defense.

WHO TRIES TO spell out for us the human hours of effort, the steel, the aluminum, the forests of lumber, the labyrinth of electronic equipment, the scientific energies that are poured each year into defense? President Eisenhower is a celebrated military man. But he has indicated a hundred times that, necessary as this colossal outlay is for our safety in a world marked by hostile communism, he regards it as a fundamentally sterile, empty and brutal waste of our resources. So it is. Someone who has time and the spirit for the task should put pencil to paper and translate into homes, schools, hospitals, highways and other national necessities the huge defense expenditures of the nearly 14 postwar years.

THE RESULT would be a painful portrait of life unborn, of rewards never to be realized. We are a rich people. We shall go on pressing to fulfill our soaring needs, and many we shall meet indeed. But because of the great sluicing off of our wealth into defense, everything else we do will cost immeasurably more and often will place critical strain upon our resources. In a world free of war and its threat, we and many free peoples could have had much, much more for very much less. That we do not is the fault of a handful of men—their minds warped by the quest for power—who sit stonily in Russia's Kremlin fortress. They have laid this staggering bill upon us all.

Supercolossal Era

THE MOVIES, thrust into trouble by television and the changing habits of the American pleasure seeker, have been "ending eras" right and left for some time now. But surely one came legitimately to its end with the passing of the almost legendary Cecil B. DeMille, 77-year-old producer who helped lead the films out of infancy into roaring, supercolossal maturity. The motion picture, as no other medium, has an almost limitless capacity to bring us the full image of life, as lived anywhere on earth at any time in history. DeMille grasped this early in his career, and devoted himself to portraying the pageant of living with giant brush strokes dabbed on in the whole range of colors. How his stunning productions ranked as drama will be debated. Few will question that Cecil B. DeMille stood alone in his ability to show us the breadth and sweep and bigness of human life.

Barb From Bauer

MANAGER CASEY Stengel's talents as morale builder and miracle worker with the Yankees will be tested again this spring. It will be up to Old Case to establish good relations between Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer, two of his top outfielders. At a banquet in St. Paul, Minn., the other night, Bauer declared that Mantle "has to be the whole cheese as he doesn't always play up to his best." When in a slump, said Bauer, the redoubtable Mickey "tends to let down on himself and the team." Ball players are notoriously reluctant to accept criticism from teammates, especially public criticism. Mantle, who got a reported $75,000 for favoring in centerfield last season, is no exception. The fact that Mickey is demanding a $10,000 raise makes Bauer's barb all the sharper. Stengel's work is cut out for him.

A NEWS PHOTO showed the new Cuban government's treasury minister carrying two guns. Batista must have left at least some cash box contents worth guarding.

Rubber Ice

Doris Fleeson

Kennedy, Not Johnson, Demo Pace Setter

WASHINGTON—A mild tremor hit the highly sensitized Presidential seismographs when Senator George A. Smathers of Florida told a Democratic victory dinner here that the country would feel a lot more secure with Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson in the White House.

Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who had just been leading Smathers with the very best butter, abruptly stopped smiling. A table of California notables, all pro-Stevenson, visibly bridled. Associates of Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts looked stricken; later they reproached Smathers, saying, "Jack won't like this."

Johnson, a man with the most delicate political antennae, ignored the whole thing and, in a brief and gracious speech, devoted himself to the greater glory of his party.

SMATHERS now denies that anything more than standard operating politics was involved in his remarks. It is, of course, a poor Senator who has not been proposed sometime by a kindly colleague for the highest political office. There are no signs of a Johnson Presidential organization, and if it should appear, its spokesmen will not be a Southerner.

Nor is so brilliant a tactician likely to attempt a frontal onslaught on a difficult objective when he is weak on so many flanks—a heart attack, oil, gas and civil rights.

JOHNSON, in fact, belongs with Adlai Stevenson, Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri and Governor Robert Meyer of New Jersey in the category of floaters. These men cannot set the pace of the 1960 contest for various and different reasons: they can only ride the political currents as gracefully as possible.

If the pace-setters knock each other out or arouse controversies that will be felt, they cannot later resolve, party peace-makers will weight the claims of the floaters.

Today's pace-setter is Kennedy. He has had to accept the risks of the role in order to overcome the disadvantages of his youth and his relative inexperience.

THE RISKS are harsh. If he doesn't fill the bases every time at bat, it will be said he has fallen behind. He is an inevitable target of those who favor others. He also will be expected to enter state primaries which have been the political graveyards of many hopeful candidates.

The primary calendar does not start auspiciously for him. Vermont next year will be first for the first time. Kennedy should carry it easily, but it has only three electoral votes. He should do as well in New Hampshire the following week, but its four electoral votes will be compared to the 11 of Minnesota which on the same day will surely fall to its native son, Humphrey.

THE HUMPHREY forces are now said to be in conversation with Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan on how best to cut down Kennedy in the Wisconsin primary. Each of the two potential—and temporary allies figures he can hold the farm vote and get a fair share of labor. They fear dividing their strength against the attractive Kennedy.

In 1956 the great primary prize was California; it is already ruled out of bounds for next year in honor of Governor Edmund (Pat) Brown and in the hope of immense bargaining power at the convention.

Now Comes A Big Visitor From Thailand

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Nai Pote Sarasin, former Thai ambassador to the United States and now Secretary General of the South East Asia Treaty Organization has come to Washington on a new and important mission.

It is to explore the possibilities for closer relations between SEATO and other free world collective security organizations, particularly the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Baghdad Pact countries.

At the present time, only the United Kingdom is a full member of all three alliances. The U. S. maintains close relations with the Baghdad Pact as an observer, cooperating on its military and economic programs.

Undersecretary of State Loy W. Henderson will be U.S. representative at the Baghdad Pact now meeting in Karachi, Pakistan. But this country is not a full member, as it is in NATO and SEATO.

FRANCE also belongs to NATO and SEATO. Pakistan is in SEATO and Baghdad Pact. Turkey is in NATO and Baghdad Pact. The Philippines, Australia and New Zealand, other SEATO countries, have military agreements with the U. S.

Thus there is a loose correlation of information about the three organizations, but it is not exchanged officially.

Secretary General Sarasin's current trip to explore possibilities for better coordination is the result of action taken at the fourth SEATO Council meeting in Manila last March. He was authorized to develop closer relations with other collective security organizations for the exchange of information and opinion on a mutually agreeable basis.

THE SECRETARY general first visited Ankara, Turkey—new headquarters for the Baghdad Pact—to consult with its Acting Secretary General Bulend Kestelli.

In Paris, Sarasin met with Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, secretary general of NATO, and with French officials. He also visited London for talks with the British. Sarasin is not in Washington on a state visit. He is staying at the Thai embassy. But he will meet with Secretary of State Dulles, Assistant Secretary for Far Eastern Affairs Walter Robertson, Pentagon officials and Washington ambassadors of the eight SEATO countries.

He will report on his progress at the next SEATO Council meeting in Wellington, New Zealand, April 8-10.

THIS ACTION will, in all probability, be misbranded by Communist propaganda as a new effort to merge the three mutual defense alliances into a light treaty for aggression against Russia and other countries behind the Iron Curtain.

The word in Washington is that nothing like that is involved. There is no plan for establishing direct liaison between the three alliances. There is no plan to merge the military planning under a free world super-duper general staff. Most of the co-operation planned will be for nonmilitary programs.

What is not generally realized is that most SEATO activities are now in this nonmilitary field. SEATO's budget for this year is $850,000, making it one of the least expensive of all the international alliances. Only $100,000 of this goes for maintaining the military planning staff of about 50 officers in Bangkok.

THIS FIGURE does not cover

the salaries of the staff, nor the costs of SEATO military exercises. They are paid for out of the defense budgets of the eight SEATO members.

The 700 million dollars' worth of economic aid furnished to SEATO countries principally by the U. S., is likewise not included in its budget.

The $750,000 of SEATO funds assigned to nonmilitary projects covers principally cultural relations, skilled labor training, research services on Communist penetration of the area and international information exchange.

These nonmilitary programs have done much to reduce the initial hostility toward SEATO from other countries in the area; particularly India, Burma, Ceylon and Indonesia. No one has any delusions that they are about to join the organization. But they now recognize that it is an influence for building up the area.

Communist propaganda against SEATO from both Red China and Russia has been increasing in intensity. This is taken as one of the best signs of its growing effectiveness.

NEW CLUB FORMED—A number of young women have formed the Junior Volunteer Service Corps for the purpose of aiding relief and welfare organizations of the city by giving a portion of their leisure time in service to the community. Each member pledged to give eight hours per month.

COLDEST SPOT—With thermometers in Accident, Garrett County, registering 14 degrees below zero, the community was believed to be the coldest spot in Maryland. At Oakland, 20 miles south of Accident, the official reading was five degrees below. An inch of snow fell in the area.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—When a man's wife is not in town to drive home with him at night and issue flute-like bird calls as conversation, things get lonely in an automobile, and the obvious thing to do is turn on the radio to see what someone else is saying.

After three nights I have a small report to make about New York radio commentators: they either are deliberately reaching for a folksy way of speech or they'd best go back to school and learn a rather noble instrument of communication called the English language.

ONE OF MY best friends is a commentator and he, as well as all detectable others, consistently says "lugsbury." Coats have lugsbury, winter resorts have lugsbury, new cars have lugsbury interiors. The last time I looked the word up it was lux-ury.

The other artful little fracture is "rill estate." These boys roll that one around on their commenting tongues with relish. Pickle relish, I think.

A third is "mercure." The lads who specialize in weather reports always have the "mercure" rising or falling or being steady. One of these days when I have the money I think I will buy a new "mercure" thermometer and try to keep up with things.

But the fopper is "speshalist." Since almost anyone is a "speshalist" in something these days, the word falls fairly frequently on the ear and at the risk of sounding like a linguistic snob I would like to say it is not difficult to say spesh-al-ist.

OVERHEARD in the next glassed-in-but-open-doored phone booth in Penn Station: "So, anyway, Julie, I told him that being an artist was a sad way of picking up a hard dollar. He said he is a dinner table arranger. You know, the centerpiece and the silver and the roses and the fall-out of old fern leaves, all like that. He says he makes a nice dollar arranging people's tables for them."

"So I said you got to have an artistic bent, get one with moose in it; go arrange people's lunch in their lunch buckets, there are more of them. So he hasn't called back in three days. I think he didn't like it much. Whadda you think?"

THAT KIND of gemlike New York overheard always recalls to mind the one I heard in front of the Plymouth Theatre in 45th

Washington Calling

WASHINGTON—Not long ago one of Senator Lyndon Johnson's principal admirers in the press gallery wrote an article projecting a 1960 race for President between the Senator from Texas and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. Being human, so very human, Johnson was flattered but at the same time he rejects the notion on the often-repeated ground that he will never be a candidate for the Presidency.

Nothing quite like the Johnson phenomenon has been seen in this capital in the memory of man. His fellow Democrats in the Senate, and even some Republicans, viewing him with a mixture of admiration, envy, resentment and sheer stupefaction regard him already as "another President," a. executive in his own right.

WHAT THIS recognizes is that the majority leader has created a center of power in the legislative branch rivaling that in the executive branch. There are many reasons why this has happened. One of them is the fact of a military man in the White House who takes a narrow view of the functions of the Presidency.

But most of the reasons, however, are in the dynamic of Lyndon Johnson himself. Other able managers have led the Senate majority in recent times: Charles McNary for the Republicans in the Coolidge-Hoover era. Alben Barkley in the first Truman term. But what makes the Johnson model unique is a forward drive (complete with the biggest tail fins and fabulous lighting) that aims at adoption of a complete Democratic program covering most major phases of national policy.

IT BEGAN with the Senator's own "state of the Union" message

Street about 10 years ago as two girls passed. "So I said to him you could die from not having to eat on the table being an actor. You get yourself a $75 a week private job and I'll marry you."

In New York, to say "He didn't have to eat" is not what it reads to be: it means he was starving. She meant she told him he could starve as an actor.

The intonation is the same West Side dialect in which people speak of wanting to go into a magazine store to buy "flah-pizz Buzzah." This West Side version of English finds its variants in the close-knit few blocks of the Italian section in Greenwich Village where they say: "No to drink, it's a poiz." Or "He'sa know allabout." In the Syrian area near Allen Street: "Gehetzen, cold, too, hab?"

This is a simple one: "By golly, along with everything else it's cold, too." There is a kind of small wonderment in idly walking the sections of Manhattan and keeping an ear on the argot of the people. The rich, earthy variants rise like steam and make for a delightful polyglot.

WENT backstage at "West Side Story" the other matinee just to see how this one had withstood time and usage and it is still a sparkling, alert and wonderful musical with not one person in the cast letting down or getting sloppy. There was about 10 minutes to go before curtain-time and two rigorous performances ahead, particularly for the dancers.

What were six lads doing? Voluntarily dancing their heads off in routines they were learning for "Gypsy," to which they will transfer when rehearsals begin next week.

One was the chanter: "And one and two and three and four and turn on the left toe and stop half-way and three and four and turn again and then the flip and four and you go into the swing."

As I have said a dull number of times before: if people in business offices worked as hard and with the same zeal as performers in show business natural business would be transformed overnight.

BILL HUNT, Cumberland, Md.: Went into Absinthe House the other night for the first time in weeks and there it was and many thanks to you. Note and correct address follow. Final note on radio dictation: The boys who habitually say "hurlid" for herald. The lark "hurlids the dawn. And now it is, and I'm home.

to the Democratic conference on January 7, two days ahead of the Eisenhower State of the Union address. And, incidentally, Johnson has in his stable some of the ablest "brain trusters" out of the New Deal who salt his speeches with vivid locutions and sparkling phrases.

Quicker than you can say Department of Justice he next put in his four-part civil rights bill. While as a shrewd strategist he is holding back some of his plans, here are pieces of the Johnson program.

AGRICULTURE—A complete new program dealing with the problem of agricultural surpluses. Johnson says it will save a billion dollars a year in storage charges alone. The plan is to have it introduced by a Northern liberal and a Southerner.

Depressed Areas—A new measure resembling the one which President Eisenhower vetoed last year. The stress will be on means for abolishing the pockets of unemployment persisting with the number of jobs almost certain to stay above 4,000,000. The confident prediction is that the President will find this one a lot harder to veto.

Airport Construction—The Democratic proposal will go well beyond the limited recommendations in the Eisenhower budget.

LABOR—Senator John F. Kennedy is already in the field with a revised and somewhat sterner version of the Kennedy-Ives bill adopted by the Senate last year but defeated by Republican strategists in the House. Most Democrats will be for it and Republicans will find it hard to oppose it.

Public Works—Out of the Public Works and Interior Committees will come a rich pudding stuffed with dams and projects of every kind.

Budget and Finance—Here the strategy is surprise. For what he considers such "tricks" in the President's budget as moving in to this year the proposed $1.375 billion for the International Monetary Fund in order to show a balance next year. Johnson has his own counter to be disclosed in due time.

This outline is suggestive rather than comprehensive. What it suggests is the characteristic Johnson stress on the feasible, the practical, the attainable. He wants to get as many Democrats as possible behind the compromise with the greatest possible appeal. Thus he hopes to get four states from the confederacy for his civil rights program.

BEAU BRUMMELL, famous 19th century British dandy, is sometimes credited with being the first man in modern history to take a daily bath. But, alas for cleanliness—later in life he became dirty and slovenly, and died a senile pauper.

Taking a bath, incidentally, is still something of a problem in some parts of the United States. Three million American homes still lack running water.

As men get scarcer, the girls are giving them less and less chance to get away. The average engagement period 30 years ago was a year or more. Now it's from five to seven months.

Do you like to lie on the rug while watching television? Well, cut it out: you may get sick. Some statisticians have figured out a 9-by-12 rug collects three pounds of dirt in a year and nests 11,914,000,000 germs.

IF YOU'VE EVER wondered why there are so few white-covered cottages around Wall Street, Manhattan's famous financial district, here's your answer: Land there is conservatively valued at $15,000,000 an acre. Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—The National Transportation Institute decided that Senator George A. Smathers had done more than any man alive to alleviate the plight of the country's carriers, especially the railroads, and voted to honor him accordingly.

The NTI commissioned a New York goldsmith to fashion a gold medal for the Florida Democrat that would be as artistic and beautiful as a creation of the very late Benvenuto Cellini.

The costly medallion was to be conferred upon Senator Smathers at a big rally of 50 NTI organizations in Chicago. Two days before the affair the institute sent its superintendent and top security man, Frank Smith, to Manhattan to take possession of the trophy from the goldsmith.

The medal, representing months of skilled craftsmanship, depicted the common carriers—an airplane, truck, ship, and train—for whom Senator Smathers had performed such Trojan work as chairman of the Surface Transportation Subcommittee. Taking as many precautions as if he was carrying the crown jewels, Security Officer Smith transported the medal to Chicago.

AT THE AIRPORT there he stopped at the airlines counter to reconfirm his return reservation. He was halfway into town before he remembered he had left the precious medallion on the counter.

He returned to the airport, almost out of his mind. He caused the place to be literally combed, but no trace was found of the precious trophy.

The NTI phoned the New York goldsmith and asked him to strike off a duplicate medal. The goldsmith said it couldn't be done in two days, but that he would fashion a rough replica which Senator Smathers could return to him after the award dinner for finishing. He rushed it through, and personally put it on a plane for Chicago.

Super-sleuth Smith drove to the Windy City airport to pick it up. He got caught in a traffic jam. The medal continued on the flight to Fort Worth.

Agents were still trying to locate it in Texas, when the nation's leading transportation tycoons gathered to honor Senator Smathers in Chicago. The tycoons and President Ted Baker of the NTI were writhing in mortification because the transportation experts had snatched the most simple transportation operation.

But there was still more mortification of this sort to come. When Senator Smathers arrived at the Conrad Hilton Hotel there was no room for him. The travel experts had forgotten to make their prized traveler a reservation.

THE SENIOR Senator from Alaska has requested his lawyer in Juneau to give him an estimate as to how much it would cost legally to change his first name.

The right name of the senior Senator is Edward Lewis Bartlett. But, when he was an infant, his older sister, Doris (who died in 1917) began calling him "Bob"—no one in the family can recall why. The nickname stuck.

This didn't prove too onerous a problem until he rose to his present eminence. Then a lot of Alaskans, with peculiar ideas of the respect owed a Senator, ascertained his baptismal name and began calling him "Ed."

Senator Bartlett told me he became alarmed that if, carried too far, could mix him up politically, so he wrote his attorney, John D. Diamond, asking what fee he would charge for handling a new change. I asked Senator Bartlett how much he was willing to spend.

"Well," he replied, "I wouldn't want Diamond to know about this, but I am prepared to go as high as $100." He added with seeming irrelevance: "I never pay him anyway."

I asked Senator Bartlett what name he wanted to change to. Unhesitatingly he answered:

"Robert—what else?"

I inquired how his wife, Vide, felt about her husband changing his name at the age of 54.

"Mrs. Bartlett," he replied lugubriously, "told me: 'I don't care what name you take. I'll still have my own name for you.'"

"Modest" Teacher Pay Hike Viewed By Tawes

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes budget which already totals $131,915,001 for aid to public schools, said today he is exploring the possibility of granting school teachers a "modest" pay raise with the State and counties footing the bill jointly.

He said a reexamination of the revenue picture later in this session of the Legislature will determine whether it can be granted this year.

He said he also hopes something can be "worked out" to advance the pay raises State employees are scheduled to start receiving May 1. This also will depend on the reassessment of revenues, probably in March.

Neither provision was included in the budget which Tawes submitted to the General Assembly today and which was based on revenue estimates made in December. He discussed the proposals with newsmen at a briefing session on the budget and expressed hope that a rising economy might project enough revenue to accomplish them.

Tawes' proposal for the State and political subdivisions to share jointly in a pay raise on some type of matching basis would be something new. It apparently would require a local raise for teachers in order for them to receive one from the State.

The governor said he has asked Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, superintendent of schools, to work out a suggested formula for the raises and submit it to him for consideration.

Whatever is approved would be added to a State public education system from the grass roots.

Special Tax Requests Hit 10,000 Mark

By CARLO J. SALZANO, United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Inside the Statehouse: The yen among West Virginia motorists for special license numbers is growing. The State Motor Vehicles Department said it already has received some 10,000 requests for specific numbers for 1959-60.

The department only recently announced that it would accept the requests, by mail, preferably by postcard.

A state senator who prefers to remain anonymous believes that any bills to raise salaries stand little chance of passage at this session of the Legislature.

"With economic conditions the way they are now, I don't think any salary-like bill would pass," he observed. Among the pay raise proposals so far introduced was one to boost by $5,000 a year the salaries of the governor and State Supreme Court judges.

A bill to include savings and loan depositors among those exempt from taxation under a constitutional amendment ratified by the voters last Nov. 4 is being prepared for introduction in the Legislature.

A spokesman said such a change would probably require another vote by the people.

Officials of WHIT-TV in Huntington and Charleston have urged members of the Legislature to watch a special television showing tonight of "The Snake Pit," a movie about mental disease.

They told the legislators the film "will impress you as to the humanitarian aspects of the mental health problems before you as West Virginia lawmakers."

Steam Railway Is Slowed Down

DARLINGTON, England (UPI)—A British reporter retraced the route of the world's first public steam railway here and found it now takes 31 minutes for the 11-mile trip instead of the 30 minutes first clocked in 1825.

Queen Elizabeth I collected hundreds of pairs of richly embroidered and bejeweled gloves given to her as New Year's gifts.

General Fund Budget Of Tawes Termed 'Tightest' In Years

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A State as a bargain. It would cost $44,000, property tax rate of 14.75 cents. The federal government is willing to pay half the freight. Gov. Tawes proposed that $11,000 each be appropriated for the Civil Defense and State Police departments to match it.

The rate, fixed automatically by the amount of bonds to be redeemed each year, will jump from a levy of 13.42 cents for 1959.

Budget Director James G. Renne described the $204,801,428 general fund budget submitted by Gov. Tawes as "the tightest I've seen." He predicted finance committees will have a tough time finding any fat to trim.

Tawes chopped $12,617,113 from the amount normally wrong out by the chief executive.

The Department of Tidewater Fisheries is making another try for that $60,000 airplane deleted by the Legislature last year. Gov. Tawes approved the request for the Canadian-made aircraft on the TFC's contention that it was needed to replace its present seaplane used in enforcement work.

The department was allowed $369,005 for oyster propagation compared to $417,178 in the current year.

The new governor also recommended purchase of a helicopter.

The Susquehanna Electric Co. gives $22,500 toward a study of whether fish should be helped by a ladder over the Conowingo Dam. The Pennsylvania Water and Power Co. puts up $2,000 in lieu of a fish ladder at the Conowingo Dam.

"Smokey," the famous bear in the ranger's hat, has been used as a symbol of forest fire prevention since 1945.

One of the few big cuts in authorized personnel made by the new governor was 16 positions from Civil Defense. This was attributed to the fact that the federal government had eliminated the civilian Ground Observer Corps.

Gov. Tawes still authorized 703 more State employees than allowed at the end of Gov. McKeldin's administration.

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra failed to find a sympathetic ear in Tawes. He allowed it no State grant.

Gov. McKeldin had granted it $23,000 this year and $50,000 the year before.

The budget contained two unique items—outright contributions by private concerns.

Bill Would Require Bar Exams For All

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Legislation aimed at requiring West Virginia University law school graduates to take the West Virginia bar examination the same as graduates of other schools was introduced today in the House of Delegates.

Sponsors of the measure are Democratic Debs. Ivor F. Boarsky and E. D. Knight Jr., of Charleston. Both are graduates of the University of Virginia law school.

The bill would make the requirement effective Oct. 1, 1962, after present WVU law school students have completed their studies. They would not be required to take the test.

Under present code, university law school graduates may start practice simply by presenting their diplomas to a court of the state. To practice before the State Supreme Court, they must be sworn in—and the law class usually is brought here for that purpose early in June.

A similar bill was approved by legislators in the early 1930s, but was vetoed by Gov. H. G. Kump because it did not contain a provision excluding the WVU law school students at the time.

Carpenters Union Changes Meeting

New W. Va. Democratic Committeeman Slated

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Koontz first was named to the national committee in 1940. He is a native of Nicholas County and was the Democratic nominee for the National Committeeman Arthur B. Koontz.

John E. Amos, Charleston attorney and truck line executive, was said today to have the inside track to fill the remainder of the term which runs through the 1960 national Democratic convention.

Koontz, also a Charleston attorney, said he had asked to be relieved of his duties on the national committee for "reasons of health."

He suffered a heart attack in December, 1957 and since had been advised to "slow down" by physicians. Koontz will be 74 next Thursday.

Now in his fifth four-year term in Ridgeley.

Key's Hanging Still Probed

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—A final ruling on the death of a St. Mary's County boy found hanging from a tree Sunday night must await completion of a police investigation.

However, Deputy Sheriff George Sauger said yesterday it appeared the death of James Harman Tipsett of nearby Avenue "was accidental."

In Baltimore, Dr. Paul F. Guerin, assistant medical examiner who performed an autopsy on the 12-year-old boy, said only that the youngster died of hanging.

The body was found hanging from a tree near the boy's home. The legs were bound and no platform or stand was found near the scene.

Hero Winds Up In Jail

BAITIMORE (AP)—Almost four years ago, Earl Hamlett was cited for heroism when he rescued a friend from a high-voltage wire, receiving severe and crippling burns.

Monday, Hamlett was sentenced to five years in the State Reformatory for Males at Hagerstown for armed robbery. The 19-year-old Negro was sentenced in Youth Court by Judge Joseph R. Byrnes.

Hamlett has several bent fingers because of the burns. Defense counsel told the court that he was taunted because of his "claw" hands and he developed a complex which forced him to quit school. He could not get work, the attorney said, and finally robbed a woman shopper with a toy pistol to obtain money for clothes.

Budget Hits Record High In Maryland

State Programs Carried On At Increased Levels

By HERB THOMPSON

Other budget stories appear on pages 7 and 8.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. J. Millard Tawes, in his first effort at controlling Maryland's spiraling cost of government, submitted a record $447,889,484 budget to the Legislature today.

It calls for spending $48,332,542 more in the year beginning July 1 than in the current fiscal year, but federal funds will take care of $26,615,787 of the increase.

No new tax revenue will be necessary for the $21,716,745 in additional State spending, Tawes said. It will be absorbed by tax increases voted by the 1958 Maryland Legislature.

Requests Reduced
The "hold-the-line" budget whipped into shape by the new Democratic governor since his election last Nov. 4 primarily carries on existing State programs at increased levels to reflect a population which has now grown to three million.

Tawes said he lopped $12,617,113 from departmental requests in order to balance the budget without boosting taxes.

His spending plan leaves an expected surplus of $836,705 as a protective cushion or for use toward any items of his own program which may come in later. He submitted no new proposals today pending a reassessment of State revenues later in the session.

"Every effort has been made to practice rigid economy (while) continuing and improving all essential State services," the former State comptroller told the Assembly in his first appearance before it since his inauguration Jan. 14.

Notes Upward Pressure

He said inflation, a steadily increasing population and policies set by previous administrations and legislatures "exert an upward pressure on the budget and will continue to do so during the foreseeable future."

"A new executive has less than a free hand in the creation of his first budget," he told the Legislature. "In the program I am presenting to you today, more than 75 per cent of the appropriations are mandatory or near-mandatory items, which I see as governor are virtually unchangeable."

His general fund budget totals $204,901,128.

This represents a net increase of $16,910,955 over the current year, with public education accounting for 55 per cent of the boost and $116,449,550 or 57 per cent of the entire general fund spending.

Higher outlays for health, mental hygiene, and State employees' salaries and retirement programs made up most of the other increases.

The special fund budget, determined by how much revenue can be expected from gasoline, motor vehicle and other special taxes, dedicated by law to specific programs, will total $148,366,215 for the fiscal 1960. This is $4,805,880 more than appropriated for these projects in the current year.

Federal Grants

Federal grants of $95,275,504 round out the budget, with $65,890,360 or 70 per cent of it earmarked for highway construction. The next biggest slice of federal aid, $15,663,560, goes into welfare programs and the rest to education, jobless benefits, health and other programs.

The governor portioned out the major increases in his general fund budget this way: Public education $9,331,308, health and hospitals $2,154,771, mental hygiene $1,654,136, state employees' retirement and social security $1,469,868, and general control (Board of Public Works and administrative agencies) $1,248,391.

He said an expected rise of 2,480 pupils and addition of 1,580 teachers in the public school system will require the State to lay out $5,372,131 more to subdivisions under legal requirements for aid to education. In addition teacher retirement costs will be up $1,542,413.

Salary increases approved by the Legislature last year for State employees will add $2,687,472 to the budget. In addition the State plans to take on 703 more employees, 65 per cent of them to staff new facilities.

New Hospital Wing

Going into operation will be a new wing at Montebello State Hospital, a new maximum security (mental) hospital at Jessup, a new Maryland's children center in the Department of Welfare, new units at the University of Maryland and at University Hospital, and a new state office center in Baltimore.

Tawes also asked for 80 more days in the Allegany County Jail State Police to patrol the high-ways, bringing the present police force to 551 compared to 520 which have been recommended by traffic engineers.

County Heads Told To Live Within Funds

The head of each department of the county will be sent a letter by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today checking into the savings which could be made by operating its own quarry.

Morgan said he is a salesman and gets around the county frequently. He said it has been his observation and that of others that county roads workers could be occupied during the winter months preparing stone for use during the maintenance and repair season in other months.

He said he noted that the county spends $35,000 annually for stone and believes that the county could utilize these county road workers at a quarry to prepare the stone needed at a saving.

Member Drive Report Slated

A report on the membership drive will be given at the meeting of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, today at 8 p. m.

Paul C. Weissenmiller, commander, said a committee for the Heart Fund drive next month will be named.

The post will sponsor a public oyster roast Friday from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. in the post home.

Hearing Planned On Pension Bill

A group of Allegany County officials and teachers will attend a hearing tomorrow at 3 p. m. in Annapolis on Senate Bill 58 which would provide supplemental pensions to certain teachers and employees of the Allegany County Board of Education.

Representatives of the Board of County Commissioners and the legislative committee of the Allegany County Teachers Association will be on hand.

The measure would provide $50 monthly payments to veteran county teachers who, following years of low wages, have incurred pension inequities, the teachers association reports.

Given Jail Term

Lester Hamilton, of Warrior Mountain, was sentenced to 30 days in the Allegany County Jail State Police to patrol the high-ways, bringing the present police force to 551 compared to 520 which have been recommended by traffic engineers.

Hamilton was arrested last night by Trooper Jack Brownning of the Maryland State Police on two minor charges.

Garrett Jury Bill Passed By Delegates

The House of Delegates last night passed House Bill 22 which would permit women to serve on juries in Garrett and Howard counties.

The measure is sponsored by the delegations of those two counties.

The House also passed House Bill 42 which would repeal an obsolete wartime provision eliminating a 48-hour waiting period for marriage licenses issued to servicemen.

The Senate passed SB 115, sponsored by Sen. Charles M. See of this county, that would make certain Maryland standards for aid to needy persons to conform with certain federal standards.

The bill would provide that the first $50 of income earned by a blind person, or such amount as may be fixed by federal public assistance statutes, shall be exempt in determining the eligibility of a blind person for aid under a state law regulating public assistance to the needy blind.

The House also passed HB 50, which would provide for a state referendum on whether counties over 250,000 in population should be divided into two legislative districts, each entitled to a senator and six delegates.

Veteran Pen Resident Held On Entering

Police Report Man Admits Breaking Into Geatz Tavern

A man who claims to have spent more than 30 years in prisons has allegedly admitted to the breaking and entering of Geatz's Restaurant and Tavern at 206 Paca Street.

The man, Andrew L. Robinson, 48, of 118 South Lee Street, was arrested last night and was questioned until 3:30 a. m. today before he admitted the entry.

He was questioned extensively by Dets. Kenneth Morrissey and George Furstenburg.

Tells Of Prison Record
Robinson informed authorities that he has spent approximately 31 of his 48 years in various lock-ups. He recalled serving two years in the Maryland Penitentiary, six years in the Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh, eight years at another Pennsylvania prison and also several different terms in the Maryland House of Correction.

The entry at the West Side tavern was reported to city authorities on the morning of January 15. Lt. Det. James E. Van, who made the initial investigation, said approximately $125 worth of liquor and a shotgun was taken.

Robinson informed Det. Morrissey last night that after stealing the liquor he hid it under the Washington Street Bridge.

He also informed police that he had loaned the shotgun to a local man for $5. The weapon was recovered.

In other case reported last night, Det. Morrissey apprehended a local man for stealing a number of items from four local youths who were playing basketball at Carver High School.

Man Held In Jail
Being held in the City Jail in connection with the case is William Rhodes who had several items in his possession when arrested.

Police said Carl Brown, Bill Rice, Gary Smith and Fred Meeks reported that while they were playing basketball on the Carver court someone entered the dressing rooms and stole their possessions.

The items taken included a billfold, two class rings, a wedding ring, and a blue zipper jacket.

Det. Morrissey said Rhodes was arrested by Officer Clarence Valentine and during questioning at Police Headquarters he reportedly admitted the theft.

Rhodes was wearing the blue zipper jacket under his own jacket and the two class rings were found in his shoes.

County Approves Two Sewage Complaints

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today approved two complaints of J. B. Dowling, state sanitarian, on sewage running into county roads in the Charlestown section of Lonaconing.

The owners of the two properties have been notified to eliminate the health hazard within 30 days time.

Colder Weather Slated On Heels Of Rain, Snow

Western Marylanders and residents of the surrounding counties awoke this morning to find up to four inches of snow on the ground.

And by noon the depths ranged from three inches in eastern Allegany County to five and a half inches at Oakland following intermittent snowfalls during the morning.

Roads in Allegany County, covered this morning, were beginning to become bare from the above freezing temperatures.

But in Garrett County the snow lay on the highways, the State Roads Commission reported, and chains were recommended.

The forecast for the next two days is not so bright as Allegany and Garrett counties are to receive some light snow this afternoon. Before it ends tonight driving conditions are to become hazardous.

It is to become colder tonight with the lowest temperatures between ten and 20 degrees. Tomorrow is to be cloudy and rather cold, with the highest in the 20s. Thursday is to be rather cloudy and somewhat warmer with a chance of rain or snow in the mountains.

Snow flurries and light rain fell in other parts of the state. The snow thinned out to about an inch in the Baltimore suburbs.

The AAA today said the Pennsylvania Turnpike was snow and ice covered. It was being plowed and cleared.

Driving last night and early this morning was hazardous in this section as the mist froze on windshields as soon as it landed.

Harry Skelly, county roads supervisor, said the County Roads Department's 21 trucks were out plowing until 10 p. m. yesterday and returned again this morning.

Dimes March Postponed

The Mothers March of Dimes which was scheduled for this evening has been postponed because of the bad weather.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, general chairman, said the appeal will be held later this week.

The collections will be made in South End from 1 to 3 p. m. on Thursday, on the East Side Friday evening and in other sections of Cumberland tomorrow evening.

Over 31 mothers have been named by Mrs. John Mosner, West Side chairman, for the drive in that area.

Other area chairmen include Mrs. Walter Orndorff, Virginia Avenue School section; Mrs. Dorothy Will, Pennsylvania Avenue School section; Mrs. Sarah Berry, John Humbird School section; Mrs. Paul Weissenmiller, Centre-Mechanic Street section, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Truett, Flintstone area.

The Homeroom Mothers of the Parent-Teacher Association of Columbia Street School will conduct the appeal in the North End, with Mrs. Gladys Baker as chairman.

Workers in the Bedford Road section may leave collections at the home of Mrs. Nave.

Judge Gives Man Suspended Prison Term

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris has given a suspended sentence of five years in the state penitentiary to John Cary Dawson, city, who was found guilty last week of embezzlement.

Dawson was employed as a delivery man for the Perrin Market, 501 Baltimore Avenue, when he drove off last fall with the grocery truck and $328 in money he had collected for groceries.

Some time later the truck was found abandoned in New York City. Dawson was arrested in Buffalo and returned here to answer the charge of embezzlement.

Judge Harris said that Dawson had no previous record, but he was ordered to refrain from the use of intoxicants and make restitution of the $328 to the grocery store owner.

Mason Facing Three Charges

Police Officer James J. Mason will be tried tomorrow morning in Trial Magistrate Court on three motor vehicle counts.

The charges were the outgrowth of a chase which involved Mason and a police cruiser early Sunday morning.

Mason is being held in City Jail pending investigation of an alleged assault case which occurred Sunday morning on West Second Street.

The victim of the assault, Miss Eleanor Williams, today was reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital where she was admitted following the assault.

City Police yesterday afternoon charged Mason with reckless driving, operating a motor vehicle on license tags issued to another car and failure to stop at a stop sign.

New Package Plan Offered By Glass Firm

Union Officials Study Proposal; Major Development

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Union representatives today studied a new package proposal offered by the struck Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

It was considered a major development in the endless negotiations to settle the 114-day strike. Some 13,000 workers in nine plants have been idled.

Federal mediator Robert Donahoo said a meeting was scheduled this afternoon at which time the United Glass and Ceramic Workers Union was expected to state its position on the new proposal.

Make No Comments
It was outlined yesterday by the firm at a bargaining session. The union went into caucus immediately.

Neither Donahoo nor other officials would comment on details of the new offer.

Donahoo did say, however, that the proposal failed to meet all of the union's aims and objectives, even though it was a change from the company's original position.

"The union possibly will offer counter proposals at the meeting this afternoon," Donahoo said. "The proposal certainly is a basis for further negotiations."

Donahoo has said the major issues in the strike are the company's incentive plan, production standard, and the Creighton, Pa., plant's seniority system. Wages are not in dispute.

Lawrence In Picture
Gov. David L. Lawrence met briefly yesterday with William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry, and Charles T. Douds, director of the department's Bureau of Mediation, to look into the possibility of state action toward settling the strike.

There was no comment from any of the State officials.

But Pittsburgh Plate Glass issued a statement suggesting that the governor keep out of the talks because of its 10 operations are outside the state.

The firm said any effort on the part of Lawrence should be directed to the federal mediators working on the dispute.

Tax Changes Being Made In West Virginia

Measures Not To Make Appearance Until Later In Week

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—There were strong indications today that some revisions were being made in the tax package proposed last week by Democratic leaders of the West Virginia Legislature.

Bills to implement the program were expected to be introduced today but it was doubtful they would make an appearance. They may be submitted by Wednesday, or possibly later in the week.

A spokesman for the Democratic steering committee confirmed that "additional study" was being given the proposals which the group originally indicated would raise from 18 to 24 million dollars a year in new revenue.

Some House members were pressing to bring a showdown on the floor on a controversial bill to impose a severance tax on natural resources. A hearing on the measure has been scheduled for next Tuesday by the House Finance Committee.

The behind-the-scenes activity overshadowed formal sessions of each chamber. The House had 10 bills at passage stage today and the Senate nine. It was the largest number of measures to be at vote stage since the session began two weeks ago.

Raise PSC Salaries
Five of the bills in each chamber would bring present statute law regarding special judges and bonding programs in line with provisions of the so-called Better Schools Amendment approved by voters Nov. 4.

Two House bills expected to be approved would raise by $2,500 a year to a total of $12,500 the pay of members of the Public Service Commission.

Others would create by law the West Virginia Centennial Commission; allow a person convicted of non-support to work days so long as he stayed in jail nights; and set up a graduated scale of payment for legislators appointed to fill vacancies.

The bills up for vote in the Senate included proposals to set up a small claims court in Kanawha County which would handle civil cases where amounts of damages sought would not exceed $1,000; change the procedure in picking 12-member juries from 20 member panels; and allow the road commissioner to set minimum speed zones on certain heavily traveled highways.

Passed Five Bills
On Monday the House passed five bills and sent them to the Senate for concurrence.

On a 93-3 vote it approved a measure which would extend the parental responsibility law to children who set forest fires and by a 75-20 vote approved a measure which allowed juke-boxes to be played at any hour in establishments selling beer and also prohibits the loitering of persons under 18 years of age in such establishments.

The house also approved bills to change the sentence for conviction for forgery; to set up regulations for operation of professional bondsmen in criminal cases, and to change from the 15th to the 20th day of the month gross sales tax reports must be made to the state tax commissioner.

The House also adopted an amendment to the salary scale for appointive members of the Legislature by setting up a fourth stage which provides $1,000 pay for service of between 12 to 20 days. Service over 20 days would be worth the full $1,500 annual salary. Prior to the amendment the full amount would be paid after 12 days service.

Bill Would Change Squirrel Season

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A bill introduced in the House of Delegates today would require the State Conservation Commission to set up split squirrel seasons in West Virginia each fall.

The first would open effective Sept. 15 and the second Nov. 11. West Virginia now has a single season, usually beginning in November and running into January.

Budget Hits

He cautioned legislators against adding any further to State spending at this time.

"While new or expanded programs may be desirable in the abstract, it must be remembered that absent any increase in predicted revenues, their cost can only be met by increasing the heavy tax burden already being carried by our citizens," he said. "I urge each member of the General Assembly, therefore, to consider thoughtfully how any new program will be financed for the long term future before it is initiated by any legally binding act."

He also invited legislators to try to effect further economies if they can do so without impairing essential programs, but he said he considers the plan submitted "to be a minimum."

Permanent Structures On Safety Strip Not Allowed

OAKLAND — Deep Creek Lake property owners receiving official notices are from the Pennsylvania Electric Company declaring that structures of a permanent nature are not allowed on the firm's safety strip.

It came to the attention of the company recently that a number of such structures had already been erected on the safety strip by various lot owners.

There was a conference held several weeks ago by company officials and members of the Board of Forests and Parks. The latter had constructed stone barriers off the shore of Deep Creek State Park on the Meadow Mountain inlet and maintained them for the protection of the swimmers against motor boats.

The electric company is now in the process of sending out statements for the renewal of privilege permits for the coming year. With the statement is a letter declaring "It is with the understanding that the renewal is subject to cancellation for failure to remove any encroaching structures which may have been placed on the safety strip adjoining the properties."

The letter also added: "If it is later discovered that any such encroachments are found to be on the safety strip adjoining your property, notice will be given you in accordance with the terms of the privilege permit and unless same are removed within the time allowed the privilege permit will be cancelled."

It was also indicated that strict compliance with the terms thereof would be expected and full cooperation appreciated. The letter was signed by E. L. Bussey, representing the production department.

Scouts Take
Over Keyser
February 2

KEYSER — Boy Scouts from troops in Keyser, McCoole, Burlington and Fountain will meet at 7 p. m. Monday, February 2, in First Methodist Church to elect city officials for a one-day term of office Saturday, February 7.

Councilman Lester Oates announced that six troops and one Explorer Post have submitted candidates who were selected in primary elections held during the week of January 19-24.

Mayor Richard Romig and Council have agreed to explain the duties of their respective offices to the successful boy candidates. Members of the Fire and Police Department, have set up classes of instruction for boys who are appointed to the counterpart of their offices.

At the general election, boys will be allowed to speak on behalf of a candidate. After the first ballot is cast and counted, all but the two highest candidates will be eliminated. On the second ballot the boy receiving the most votes will be declared the winner.

Scouts will be elected to the offices of mayor, finance commissioner, water commissioner, street commissioner, city clerk, chief of police and chief of the Fire Department.

Officials will be sworn into office at 9 a. m. Saturday, February 7, at the city offices. The boy Mayor and Council will appoint five policemen and 16 firemen. Regulations stipulate that at least two must come from each participating unit.

Student Honored

Congressman Harley O. Staggers, of Keyser, has announced that Michael Montgomery, a senior at Keyser High School, has been nominated as his appointee to the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Montgomery Jr., the candidate holds membership in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church. He is an A student at KHS where he is active in the K-Klub and the H-Y, and is a member of the football, basketball, and track teams.

Montgomery is the second student to receive a nomination by Rep. Staggers. Last week he recommended Ronald Mathias for an appointment to the West Point Military Academy.

Initiation Set
A number of juniors and seniors will become members of the J. C. Sanders chapter of the National Honor Society of Keyser (High School) in an initiation ceremony Thursday in the school auditorium.

President, Ronald Kuykendall will preside over the program. The four principles of the organization, scholarship, leadership, service and character will be given by Rupert Bosley, DiAnn Welshon, William Boor, and Judith Ravenscroft. Torchbearer is Jack Canfield.

Announcers are Janice Fisher and Twila Evans. James Bosley and Edward Ellbeck are in charge of the curtains and lights. In charge of the instruction of the new initiates are Eleanor Blackburn, Carl Rohrbach and Betty Lou Canan.

LaSalle, Ridgeley To Get Acid Tests Tonight

Locals Meet Valley Here, Hawks Play At 'Savage'

By JIM DAY
Times Scholastic Sports Editor

Two of the most improved quints in the district will find out tonight if their recent win binges are synthetic or for real as they tangle with opponents who had comparatively easy times taking them across in earlier meetings.

Up for their acid tests will be LaSalle and Ridgeley, with the Explorers bracing for an invasion by the unbeaten Valley Black Knights on the SS. Peter and Paul court and the Black-hawks traveling to Mt. Savage.

The charges of coaches George Geatz and Tom O'Connor have righted themselves from earlier-season ailments that saw them lose a combined total of 12 games in the 18 they played.

Hawks Cop Last Five
Since showing a record of three wins and six setbacks, the Explorers have snared four of five games, including the last three in a row. The Hawks, who were also 3-6, take a mark of eight wins and six losses against the Indians, bagging their last five attempts.

Valley, still riding an undefeated streak, trampled the Explorers, 63-36, on the Black Knights' court while the Indians, who have been near the top with the elite all season, clipped the Hawks, 54-48, on the Ridgeley boards.

LaSalle, its championship quint wrecked by graduation last spring, has a club now that has apparently benefited from its early-season inexperience. Included in the recent triumphs have been a pair of victories over highly-regarded Paw Paw, one of the top quints in the Potomac Valley Conference.

The Black Knights haven't lost to a city quint yet, whipping Fort Hill in a sudden-death overtime, 63-61, and taking Allegany, 49-36. Valley has been averaging 59.3 points a contest to the opposition's 47.5 while the Explorers, who have been outscored, 683 points to 744, have a 48.8 mark for each start while allowing its opponents 53.1.

Sports Keg Residue

Coach Bill Reinhardt, whose George Washington University basketball team came close to cracking West Virginia's 42-game Southern Conference win streak last night at Uline Arena, enjoyed the last laugh on an official in the recent Carrousel tournament at Charlotte, N. C.

Complaining about one of his calls, Reinhardt cracked to the official, "and don't tell me I couldn't see the play from where I was sitting. I've been officiating from that place for 40 years."

The Baltimore Colts basketball team, featuring Johnny Unitas, Big Daddy Lipscomb, Jim Mutscheller and other greats of the professional football world, will play Sunday night, 8 o'clock, in Hagerstown's State Armory.

Opposing the Colts will be the West End All-Stars featuring a couple of ex-collegians in Nick Scallion and Dave Kuhn. Reuben Vargas, a 25-year-old heavyweight from Richmond, Calif., who meets Tony Anthony in a ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night is an avid reader who "dabbles" in such philosophical matter as the words of Plato, Spinoza, Kant and Schopenhauer.

"Wonder how he is at interpreting the meaning of such blood-curdling terms as 'molderous left hooks' and 'vicious jabs that really 'hoit'!"

National Motor Boat Show officials report that crowds totaling 415,000 wrote orders for $26,790,000 worth of boats, engines and accessories during the week-long show which wound-up Sunday night in the New York City Coliseum.

The McAllister Hotel in Miami, spring training headquarters for the Baltimore Orioles this year, has made available to Maryland baseball fans a special all-expense package plan. The plan, which has been approved by the Oriole organization, will include transportation to and from the airport or railroad station in Miami, deluxe room accommodations, a night club tour, a bus or yacht sightseeing trip and breakfast each day.

Two types of package plans are available—one for seven days and six nights and the other for four days and three nights.

Arrangements can be made through any Baltimore travel agent or transportation line.

Spring training dates are March 7 through April 5.

Franklin After No. 14
Franklin, continuing to stay unbeaten despite several close calls, angles for its 14th tonight as the Panthers of coach "Gus" Smith are host to Circleville in one of three PVC clashes.

The Panthers, who are in good condition to bag their first league championship following the pair of losses to previously unbeaten Romney last week, are 7-0 in the loop. One of the conquests was by 47-40 over the Indians.

If Franklin can sweep its remaining five games in the league, including tonight's, the Smithmen are "in" as champs.

Romney, still hoping to get back into the PVC race, will be out to snap its two-game loss spin when being host to a good Paw Paw club. The Pioneers had swept through nine foes before Fort Ashby ended the skein, 68-67, and then Keyser posted a 76-66 victory Friday.

Cox, Robertson, Boozer, And West Steal Spotlight

Four fellows sure to draw heavy backing in the All-America poll just two months from now are Johnny Cox, Oscar Robertson, Bob Boozer, and Jerry West — and one glance at Monday night's college basketball results will explain why.

All four flashes hit for high scores to pace their high-ranked teams to victory, maintaining their rank among the nation's "top 10" teams.

Cox, the only starter back from Kentucky's "fiddlin' five" that won last season's NCAA championship, slammed home 18 points in the first half and a total of 23 in the game to pace top-ranked Kentucky to a 94-70 revenge victory over Georgia Tech. Cox, opening-half sport, boosted the Wildcats into a 55-43 lead and wrecked Tech's hopes for a repeat of last year's upset of the Wildcats at Atlanta.

14th Wildcat Win

The win was the 14th in 15 games and fourth straight for the Wildcats, but left them one game behind unbeaten Auburn in the Southeastern Conference race.

Robertson, the national scoring leader, with a 32.5-point average, chalked up a "routine" 27 points as fifth-ranked Cincinnati drubbed Drake, 73-52, for its 12th win in 14 games and sixth straight in the Missouri Valley Conference.

The 6-8 Boozer tallied 21 points and seized 14 rebounds to pace third-ranked Kansas State (14-1) to a 78-55 rout of Iowa State. Boozer sparked a second-half surge that broke open a tight game after Iowa State held the Wildcats to a 38-37 halftime lead.

West Paces West Virginia
West loomed in 29 points to lead 10th-ranked West Virginia to a 77-67 win over George Washington. The Mountaineers sank only 26.8 per cent of their first-half shots and trailed by 12 points at intermission, but West led a pressing attack that turned the tide.

The only other team in the "top 10" to play Monday night was ninth-ranked Bradley. The Braves, who rely on a balanced attack rather than a single ballyhoed star, also came through with a victory, 77-63, over Detroit. Dan Smith paced the Braves in a rough game with 26 points and Bobby Joe Mason added 17 as Bradley pushed its record to 12-2.

West Virginia Expels Three Grid Players

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia University football team was dealt a blow for the 1959 season Monday when three squad members were expelled for attempting to steal questions to semester examinations.

The dismissed players were probable starting fullback Glenn Shemblin, Sissonville, W. Va.; sophomore halfback Dick Manion, 20, Wheeling, W. Va.; and sophomore tackle Don (Duck) 20, Nitro, W. Va.

To Hurt Squad
Coach Art (Pappy) Lewis said his squad would be hurting without the services of the gridgers, but added, "I don't condone what they did."

The players were dropped after hearings before the school's disciplinary committee for "unauthorized entry" into the university field house "for the purpose of obtaining semester final examination questions." Acting President Clyde L. Colson said.

Colson said the players entered the field house, where most of the men's physical education classes are held, on the night of Jan. 14 to take a look at the physical education department's master exam.

High On Shamblin
Lewis was particularly high on the ability of Shamblin, a 23-year-old junior, who has been drafted by the Chicago Cardinals professional football team.

"Shamblin probably would have been our starting fullback," Lewis said, "and both Manion and Smith would have played a lot of football."

Lewis said he would have to "count heavily on sophomores again next season for reserve strength."

Lewis said he had been counting on Manion, a 155-pound speedster, to back up veteran halfbacks Ray Peterson, Fall's Church, Va., and Dave Rider, War, W. Va.

"I just hope this thing (expulsion) doesn't hit these boys too hard," Lewis said.

Indianapolis Bids For Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Indianapolis had made the latest pitch for the June heavyweight title match between champion Floyd Patterson and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson. The official signing of the bout is expected to be announced today or Wednesday.

Promoter Bill Rosenzohn and his lawyers met with lawyers representing Patterson Monday to iron out final contract details.

The site will not be set for about 30 days. New York, Los Angeles and Colorado Springs all have bid for the fight.

Old Germans Rout Moose, Capture First-Half Title

Burning up the nets with a 44-field goal barrage, the Old Germans had little trouble notching their consecutive victory and with it the first-half championship of the City Basketball League. No. 10 came last night for the Brewers.

They drubbed runnerup Loyal Order of Moose by a 92-61 score.

Big Don Moran kept the hoops humming with 17 double-digits goals and a 35-point performance for the night. Glenn Smith chipped in with 23 tallies as the Old Germans turned on the steam after an interesting first half. Kenny Johnson led the Moose with 20 tallies.

Moran's big night upped his total to 234 points for the first half, an average of 23.4 per game. The Moose's Fritz Showers, who has been transferred to Washington, missed his first game last night but his 23.9 makes him the league's high-average scorer for the first half.

In the other half of last night's doubleheader Forty & Eight Club flattened the Old Exports by a 79-64 score.

This was a close game for three quarters. Ronnie Bruce knotted the score at 50-all as the final period got under way and goals by John Poling, Dave Ritter, Ed Athey and Junior Eversole put the game on ice for the Box Car Society.

Paul Mason and Poling with 25 and 20 markers were the Forty & Eight Club's top point-getters. Bruce, Bill Kirk and Bob Dawson obtained 14, 13 and 12 tallies, respectively, for the Old Exports.

Pistons Bow To Warriors

By United Press International

When George Yardley can't play, the Detroit Pistons are in trouble.

The Philadelphia Warriors took advantage of Yardley's absence from the Detroit lineup Monday night to score a 102-96 victory over the Pistons in the only game played in the National Basketball Association.

Yardley, who became the first player in NBA history to score more than 2,000 points in a season during the 1957-58 campaign, will be lost to the Pistons for about three weeks with a broken bone in the left hand.

Paul Arizin, the circuit's second highest scorer this season, teamed with Joe Graboski to score 59 points, the latter capping 11 in the final period when the Pistons made a strong comeback.

Phil Jordan, who had 23 in a losing cause for Detroit, earned the Pistons an 88-88 tie with only seven minutes to go, but then Graboski got hot and the Warriors pulled away. The loss was Detroit's seventh in a row.

Graboski wound up the game's top point-maker with 30, while Arizin had 29. Gene Shue chipped in with 21 for Detroit.

Lemon To Get Another Trial

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Bob Lemon's once-mighty arm will get another try with the Cleveland Indians.

"I've got my mind set on pitching for Cleveland again," he told a reporter Monday, "and I've been invited to spring training at Tucson."

Lemon, now 38, will begin this week with a series of elbow exercises to strengthen the arm that failed him during the 1957 season.

He finished last year with San Diego in the Pacific Coast League after working only 25 ineffective innings with Cleveland early in the season.

Annual Civic Event Slated

The Salvation Army Advisory Board met yesterday to discuss plans for its annual civic meeting scheduled February 20 at 8:30 p. m. in the Central YMCA.

Up to 100 civic leaders in Cumberland will be invited to attend the dinner meeting.

Brigadier Carl Come, divisional commander, will be the principal speaker at the session.

Plans for the meeting were made yesterday at noon as the Salvation Army Advisory Board held its reorganizational meeting under a new Advisory Board manual.

Robert G. Garner, newly elected chairman, presided.

The new national manual requires that the nominating committee, formerly named by the chairman, become a standing committee composed of the chairman of the finance, property and public relations committees, plus two members named by the chairman.

The manual also requires monthly financial reports to the board. They were formerly presented quarterly.

Copies of the minutes of each meeting are to be forwarded to Advisory Board members under the new manual.

An active program by all nine standing committees is required under the new board procedure.

$10,500 For New UHF Channel Given Group

A check for $10,500 was presented by M. C. McKenzie, president of the LaVale group, and John W. Barton, head of the Cresaptown organization, to Kenneth L. Close, who heads the Frostburg UHF television system.

The two organizations have joined with the Frostburg group and the money they have collected will be used to purchase a 100-watt translator station to serve the communities which are sponsoring the UHF program.

This action was made at last night's meeting of the combined groups at Frostburg City Hall. The group approved plans for application to the Federal Communications Commission for authority to receive VHF Channel 9 and rebroadcast the programs on UHF. The translator will be located on Dan's Mountain.

Officers of the consolidated television group were announced. They are Kenneth L. Close, Frostburg, president; Virgil H. Ruppenthal, LaVale, executive vice president; Joseph E. James, Frostburg, first vice president; Milnor C. McKenzie, LaVale, second vice president; William B. Pritchard, Frostburg, secretary; William R. Vogtman, Frostburg, treasurer; John W. Barton, Cresaptown, assistant treasurer; and Charles K. Graham, Frostburg, station engineer.

The next meeting of the consolidated television association will be held Monday, February 8, at the Frostburg City Hall.

Officials of the group said applications and funds grow for the consolidated program additional applications for other channels will be made.

The LaVale association includes LaVale, Corriganville, Ellerslie and Locust Grove. The Cresaptown group includes Cresaptown, Pinto, Rawlings, Potomac Park and Fort Ashby, W. Va.

Officials explained that the installation of ultra-high-frequency translator equipment on Dan's Mountain is subject to approval by the FCC.

Heavy Bidder Gets 900 Set

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There is nothing like knowing your opponents in a bridge game. West wanted to double two diamonds but felt that if he bid three clubs South would take the push to the three level.

NORTH 27

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♠	Pass
Pass	3 ♠	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening lead—4 ♠

Sure enough, South did and West was ready with the ax. The slaughter was terrific. The nine, jack, queen and four of clubs went on trick one and a trump return was won by West's queen. The seven of clubs was covered by North's eight and East's ten and South chose to discard the ten of spades. Another trump was won by West's ace and the clubs continued.

All South could gather from the wreckage were three trump tricks and the ace of spades and he was down five tricks for a 900 point loss.

Like all bad bidders South was ready with an excuse. He remarked that when the opponents stopped at three clubs he marked North with some strength.

North's reply was that he had heard South's bids of one heart and two diamonds and that he, North was looking right at his own cards and wanted the privilege of bidding them for himself.

Q-CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
You, South, hold:
♠ A J 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ K J 7 6 3
What do you do?
A—Bid two no-trump. Your partner wants you to bid and no-trump certainly should suit you.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner continues with a bid of three diamonds. What do you do now?

Central 'Y' Has Election Of Officers

Dr. William Allen Heads Organization, Others Re-elected

Central YMCA elected officers at a dinner meeting with Dr. William R. Allen being named to head the organization.

Other officers, named by the board of directors, are Earl Nonnenmann, first vice president; Dr. Thomas Lewis, re-elected second vice president; Roy W. Eves, re-elected treasurer; and Karl W. Bachman, re-elected secretary.

Prior to the directors meeting which was held at the conclusion of the dinner program, 10 new directors were elected for three-year terms to the 30-member board.

Renamed directors were Dr. Allen, Earl Chaney, Dr. Lewis and Nonnenmann while new directors selected were Milton Bernstein, Mrs. F. Lee Fresh, William Lawrence, Robert Moreland, Louis V. Shinnamon and Lee Silcox.

Mrs. Pearl Metz, vice president of the ladies auxiliary also became a member of the board of directors under a revision of the YMCA constitution which was adopted at last night's meeting. This revision allows president and vice president of the ladies group to automatically become members of the board.

Other changes which were accepted to the constitution were elimination of requirement that no more than one-third of board membership could belong to one church affiliation; elimination of requirement that one-half of board be sustaining members of YMCA.

Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State College, was the principal speaker at the dinner program, outlining the four-way Rotary Club test and its applicability to the YMCA. This test poses four questions: Is it the truth? Is it fair? Does it make friends for all concerned? Is it beneficial for all concerned?

Dr. Church, in praising the YMCA's functions, said the organization need not apologize for its Christian heritage, adding that the Y has continued its existence because of this heritage.

Brief talks also were heard from: Carolyn Cook, Frostburg, who explained her trip to National Hi-Y congress at Miami, Ohio; Patricia Mitchell, president of the Rec Club, who explained her activities as a member of the group; and Eugene Hare, a member of the YMCA, who outlined his activities as a junior counselor and use of the Y.

Members of the constitution revisions committee were Roy W. Eves, chairman; John Geare, Earl Nonnenmann; Woodard Pearler; and Lynn C. Lashley.

Additional reports were made by President Treat; H. D. Barber, past president and chairman of the nominating committee; and Mr. Eves, treasurer. Mr. Barber introduced Dr. Church.

The invocation was given by Rev. Wayne Eherly, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren; and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church.
